WPS Garden of Lights Back with Bright Lights & Fun Nights at Green Bay Botanical Garden

Annual Botanical Light Show Kicks Off on November 25

(GREEN BAY, WI) (October 27, 2022) — With lingering fall colors fading and colder temperatures knocking at the door, it's almost time for Green Bay Botanical Garden's biggest fundraiser of the year, WPS Garden of Lights! Starting Friday, November 25, experience this eye-sparkling winter wonderland of more than 325,000 vibrant lights shaped into one-of-a-kind, nature-inspired light displays hand-crafted by our Garden Team.

"We're back again for another show-stopping year," says Susan Garot, President and CEO. "Every fall our Team is hard at work refreshing light displays, dreaming up new ones, and making this event one of the best ways to experience the holiday season in the majestic outdoors of northeast Wisconsin."

Plus, this year will give light show guests a chance to peek at the new Carol & Bruce Bell Children's Garden, which has been under construction since spring and is slated for a May 2023 grand opening.

"There's still plenty of work to be done in our new Bell Children's Garden," explains Garot. "But I'm thrilled that so many of our holiday guests will be able to get a small look at the changes happening before this area is officially open."

Even though the flowers are sleeping away the winter months, this outdoor experience provides a way for everyone to create special memories with friends and family, and nurture their roots with an outdoor excursion.

You can even become part of the show with our dazzling Glowing Daisy Necklaces! Experience your own personal light show along the illuminated pathways with these light-up daisies that dance in a variety of colors all night long. Bring yours from last year or buy a new one for your visit. Necklaces are $12 in advance with your ticket purchase or $15 at the door.

While seeing these outdoor sights, stop at the concessions building near the WPS Foundation Plaza for grab-and-go snacks or a beverage. Before you head home, make sure you drop off your letter to Santa (or get a photo with him!), check out decorations on our Natural Holiday Trees, explore new train sets with the Green Bay Area Model Railroaders Club, or peek inside the WPS Trellis Gift Shop for some holiday shopping.
